

The Weekend Belonged to LF; Celebrated in Matrimony & The Sole Owner of The Penthouse

LF & DJ get 10 Wins; Five with 9 as the Race Takes Another Turn

Effective date: 2024-11-13

Week 10 was a week of celebration for LF. On Saturday he took his Bride's hand in marriage and on Monday night he collected the penthouse keys from SS and MM. Saturday marked only the second time that a President was married while in office, the first being SS, and most of membership was in attendance to witness the historical event. It was a night to celebrate but the competitive spirit was still felt, as murmurs were heard between members discussing performances and where they stood heading into the week 10 slate. By the end of the weekend LF and DJ stood alone with 10 wins, and in storybook fashion it was enough to push LF into the top spot on his own. He and The First Lady spent Monday evening redecorating the place with Mr & Mrs towel sets and the like all while reminiscing about the amazing weekend. LF kissed his wife goodnight, poured himself a knuckle of fine bourbon and took a late night stroll through the penthouse and let out an exhale. He had done what he had set out to do. He is a married man but somehow is still the man to chase. Lots of season left, but on this night he feels untouchable... SS, BS, KS, CM & MS locked in 9 wins while the rest of membership grabbed 8 to keep things close and after a memorable weekend the focus shifts back to football and only football.

It was a successful week of loner picks as 3/4 hit! DJ won his pick with CAR, MS sneakily took MIA and took home a victory, and NF went 1/2 as his NO pick won but DAL fell short. Love to see loner success! Congrats fellas!

Week 10 was a fairytale for LF, but other members have stories of their own to tell. Who will be narrating in week 11?

Your Married President,

LF
